(a) Field The present disclosure relates generally to a display device, a driving method thereof, and a driving apparatus thereof. (b) Description of Related Art An organic light emitting diode (OLED) display device has a plurality of scan lines, data lines, and power supply lines, which are arranged to form a matrix pattern. The scan lines are connected to a scan driver that sequentially transmits scan signals to the scan lines. The data lines are connected to a data driver that transmits data signals to the data lines based on a display data supplied from a controller such as a processor or a graphic card. In addition, the power supply lines are connected to a power supply device such as a DC/DC converter, and are configured to supply power to the data driver. The power supply device receives power from the power supply lines and transmits the power to the data driver. Typically, since the data driver is commonly coupled to the power supply lines, load variations of the power supply lines may affect driving currents of the data driver. When the load variations of the power supply lines are large, a time period during which the driving currents of the data driver are in a reverse current state increases, thereby causing a decrease in the power efficiency of the data driver.--- title: "Hierarchy node types" ms.date: "09/15/2017" helpviewer_keywords: ["hierarchy node types [GDI+], avoiding"] ms.assetid: 3c1fb7e2-40b9-4d31-adb3-ee5897a3d07b --- # Hierarchy node types The hierarchy node is used to represent the "folder" in an hierarchical data store. What's New In Photoshop CS5?

1. Field of the Invention The present invention generally relates to a light emitting diode, and more particularly to a light emitting diode package structure and a fabrication method thereof. 2. Description of Related Art A GaN-based semiconductor material is widely used to fabricate a light-emitting diode (LED) due to its outstanding physical properties such as a wide band gap, a high thermal stability, and the like. The light-emitting principle of the LED is based on the phenomenon that when electrons and holes are injected into an active layer of the LED and are combined into electron-hole pairs, the recombination of the electron-hole pairs will generate a light. Based on materials, LEDs can be divided into a visible light LED, an ultraviolet LED, a ultraviolet-visible light LED, and an infrared LED. Different materials have different light radiation spectra. For example, an LED chip using GaN-based compound semiconductor as a light-emitting layer is suitable for emitting light in a blue color. With the development of technology, the light-emitting efficiency of LEDs is continually improved. Besides, as the light-emitting efficiency of LEDs is improved, heat dissipation is also needed to be improved correspondingly. A conventional solution for heat dissipation of a large-size LED includes a heat conduction plate and a heat sink. When the size of a light-emitting element increases, the heat generated by the light-emitting element would be condensed and the light-emitting element would be difficult to dissipate heat. Therefore, how to improve the heat dissipation is an important topic in the art to solve the heat dissipation problems of a light-emitting element and to decrease the possible failure rate.The term "store" is used broadly to denote both "retail shop" and "shop". "Rental" is used to refer to a temporary or "time-share" of the space of a store, as in the case of a commercial office suite which is leased to a tenant by the hour for a specific period of time. The term "apartment" is used to refer to the individual or "section" of a larger store, and "apartment" refers to a private room in a store which is used for lodging by a single tenant. "Amenity" refers to the usability of a store by the public, such as the ability of people to park a car in the public space outside a store in which they
